“There’s certainly more work to do, but by tearing down barriers to job growth, our jobs-friendly policies are helping Ohioans unleash their natural energy, creativity and work ethic and they’re lifting up our state.”

—Gov. John Kasich, March 7, 2014

Legislative Update

- Driven by what backers said was a “tax grab” mentality from some local governments, a new measure terminates the authority to create new alternative joint economic development zones (JEDZs) or substantially modify existing alternative JEDZs.

- A new law authorizes grants for businesses that employ high school students in career exploration internships, equal to 50 percent of the wages paid to the student intern and up to a $5,000 grant.
